

4 FIREMEN DEAD AND 15 INJURED AT BALTIMORE

General Alarm After Midnight Called Department to Fight Fierce Blaze.

CHIEF OF DEPARTMENT
POSSIBLY FATALY HURT

As Firemen Were Standing in Narrow Street Fighting Flames, Wall of Building Fell and They Were Caught and Mangled.

Baltimore, January 23.—Fire broke out a short time after midnight in the upper part of the building occupied by the firm of J. Register & Sons, southeast corner of Holliday and Saratoga streets. The first alarm was followed by a general one, calling out all the apparatus in the city. Then by a high wind from the northwest the fire spread rapidly, and in an incredibly short time the northern wall of the building fell, Saratoga street being very narrow, four firemen were killed and many injured, among them George Horton, chief of the fire department.

Bodies Taken Out.
The fire burned towards a number of old structures. A four-story building in the rear, occupied by the E. B. Read & Co., soon caught fire and burned fiercely.

The bodies of Lieutenant Frederick Horton, James Barrows, August Schriver and John Steed, all of No. 3 engine company, were taken from beneath the burning wall.

Fifteen firemen are known to have been injured. Chief Horton's skull is said to have been fractured, and he is injured internally. It is feared that he will die. Those killed were badly mangled.

BANK WRECKED BY BOMB.

Explosive Thrown Against Building in New York.

New York, January 23.—An exploding bomb tonight wrecked the front of an Italian bank building on Elizabeth street, exposing $40,000 in silver and gold which the bankers, Silver and Gold, had piled in the windows as evidence of their ability to pay de-positors on demand.

The junior partner, Salvatore A. Pili, who was on guard inside, was cut by the glass that crashed in upon him, but stuck by his charge, and soon had the money stored in the vault.

The bomb throwers, who were not seen by the banker, were quickly lost in the crowd, and their motive is a mystery.

If robbery was the object, the perpetrators, it is believed, were amateurs, who lost courage at the critical moment when the tempting treasure was within arm's reach from the street.

Pili, the elder, is one of the most prosperous Italian bankers of the city.
This institution is capitalized at $500,- 000.

MONEY THE NATIONAL IDOL.

So Rabbi Schulman Declares in Address at Kansas City.

Kansas City, January 23.—Rabbi Samuel Schulman, of Temple Bethel, New York city, and Alfred Montgomery, the artist of New York city, were the guests of honor here this evening at the monthly dinner of the Knife and Fork Club. Mr. Montgomery gave an illustrated talk on art. Rev. Schulman spoke on "Money as Measure of Manhood." He declared that money is becoming a national idol in the hearts of the majority of Americans. This rush to gain wealth, he said, is the cause of a one-sided triumph of a material industrial civilization.

CALL ON NEW YORK BANKS.

Paid to Government First Installment of $10,000,000.

New York, January 23.—New York banks paid over to the government today the first installment of the $10,000,- 000 public deposits that Secretary Cortelyou yesterday called on them to surrender in order to strengthen the treasury's working balance, which now amounts to $1,065,000. The banks of this city now hold $72,027,000 of public deposits, $41,000,000 of which was placed with them during the October disturbance.

This is the second call that the treasury has made since the panic, the banks having paid the government $10,000,000 under the call of four weeks ago.

PASSENGER EARNINGS.

Increase in Texas for Five Months
Was $1,282,560.

Austin, Texas, January 23.—The state railroad commission today gave out a statement showing the passenger earnings for Texas railroads for the first five months of the present fiscal year ending November 30, 1907, as $1,610,- 594, against $10,329,034 for the same period in the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year.

This shows a net increase in passenger business on these lines for the five months named of $1,282,560. These figures were obtained from the sworn reports of the railroads.

HE WILL STING SENATE CRITICS BY PUBLIC REPLY

Roosevelt Greatly Angered by Charge That He's Using Patronage to Aid Taft.

PRESIDENT PREPARING STATEMENT FOR PUBLIC

Answer Will Not Be Sent to Senate, but to Newspapers—One Paragraph in Governor Hughes' Letter Bitterly Resented by Roosevelt.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, January 23.—(Special.)— President Roosevelt feels very keenly the charges recently made against the administration of the use of federal patronage to secure delegates to the next republican national convention pledged to the nomination of Secretary Taft. This feeling has been strongly expressed and a vigorous sentiment of antagonism aroused by the action of the senate recently in holding up executive appointments for confirmation.

Cabinet Members Called.
Accordingly the president called the members of his cabinet together this morning and discussed with them the subject of making a public reply to these charges. All the members of the cabinet were present except Secretary Cortelyou. Several of the cabinet officers had engagements to appear before congressional committees on various subjects of pending legislation, and were compelled to cancel them when the urgent summons from the white house were received. The president instructed all the members of his cabinet to prepare as soon as possible a full list of the recent appointments in his department with the facts in each case. The time which the order covered was left indefinite, and several members were in doubt as to whether all recent appointments since the adjournment of the last congress were meant, or simply those made since January 1.

Public Reply to Senate.

At any rate the records are being looked up, and when the facts are in the hands of the president he will issue a public statement. It will not be addressed to congress.

It will be recalled that among the first appointments held up were those of postmasters at Toccoa and Conyers, Ga., to succeed the incumbents, who are women. The new appointments were referred to the postoffice cabinet and pigeonholed. Next the senate ordered an investigation in the postoffice, and it appears that in this case a postmaster has been illegally holding office for a year after being rejected by the senate for incompetency.

Roosevelt in a Temper.

The president has indignantly denied making use of the executive appointment power for political purposes, and in each instance has asked for specifications and promised those interested a square deal.

In Georgia the announcement was made that the changes ordered were for incompetency on the part of the incumbents. For several days it has been reported that the president intended to retaliate against the senate for thus blocking practically all appointments sent in. Just how this was to be done is not apparent. The villains of the postoffice cabinet, the villains of Governor Hughes to the republican club is said to have been particularly exasperated by President Roosevelt and to have determined him upon the present course.

ONE KILLED; TWO CAPTURED

Were Members of Gang That Killed
Two White Men.

Knoxville, Tenn., January 23.—Three of a gang of negroes who brained a Cincinnati Southern telegraph operator, John Brown, at Annandale, Morgan county, Tennessee, and later shot and killed a bridge watchman, David Langley, last Saturday night, have been captured or killed.

One, name unknown, was killed Monday by a posse. A second one was captured here yesterday and is lodged in jail here for safe-keeping. The third surrendered today to a farmer living near Wartburg, after he had been shot by a posse pursuing him. He was turned over to Sheriff Langley of Morgan county, who started for Knoxville with him.
Excitement is too high in Morgan county to keep the men in Wartburg jail. The negro captured today gives his name as Walter Cole.

SHOTGUN WAS USED BY HALL.

Fired Both Barrels Into Jones, Reloaded, and Fired Again.

Houston, Tex., January 23.—Dennis Hall, of this city, today shot and killed
J. T. Jones, an oil field employee, whom Hall accused of having insulted his sister.

Notwithstanding that Jones denied the charges, according to the statement of bystanders, Hall fired both barrels of a double-barreled shotgun at the man and, reloading the gun, fired again.
The body was riddled with bullets.

ON IDLE ARMY POLICE USED THEIR CLUBS

Vicious Clashes Between the
the "Army of the Unemployed" and Chicago Police.

WOULD-BE-MARCHERS
NURSE BROKEN HEADS

Police Charged the Paraders and Dealt Vigorous Thumps With Clubs—General of the Idle Army Knocked Down
and Put in Jail.

Chicago, January 23.—An attempt of the socialists to bring about a "march of the unemployed" through the downtown streets today resulted in two sharp fights with the police, in which the would-be marchers were routed after a number of men had been clubbed. Dr. Benjamin L. Reisman, the originator of the plan to march through the streets, and two of his followers were arrested.

For several days Reisman, who is a socialist, had been making announcements of his intention to hold a parade of "hoboes" and "unemployed," despite the warning given him by Chief of Police Shipp that no march through the street would be permitted. Reisman, however, continued to defy the authorities and last night thousands of people followed him in a parade through the downtown saloons and lodging house district calling on all the men out of work to assemble at 2 o'clock on the lake front. The chief of police early in the day reiterated his statement that the march would not be permitted and directed that all the police force be held in reserve at the various stations.

Marching the Idle Army.

At a few minutes before 2 o'clock a crowd commenced to gather on Michigan avenue in front of the Art Institute and in a few minutes a column which was really a series of companies of four and five men was formed and headed by Reisman, they started west on Adams street. The marchers proper did not number more than 200 at any time, but many hundreds of people followed them along the sidewalks and added to the confusion.

After marching a block west on Adams street, Reisman counter-marched to Michigan avenue, passed north to Madison street and then marched west two squares on Madison street. Here he encountered a strong squad of police under the command of Assistant Chief of Police Schuetzler, who, after a command to disband had been disregarded, ordered his men to charge the marchers.
The police came upon a run and the column was instantly broken up. Several men were knocked down and the police, not attempting to make arrests, used their clubs freely in quickening the footsteps of the "unemployed."

Vigorous Thumps With Clubs.

Followed closely by the officers, the marchers started in the crowd of shoppers along State street and several women were pushed to the sidewalk during the confusion. No arrests were made and nobody was seriously injured, although the police dealt vigorous thumps with their clubs on the backs of the marchers.

A number of the marchers, after getting away from the police, went south on State street, aiming to form another column as they went. At State street and Jackson boulevard they had formed the semblance of another parade and were taking the middle of the street, they marched along, six abreast. Just before reaching Clark street they were met by another detachment of police under Lieutenants White and Mooney. Another order to disperse met with no response, the marchers attempting to shoulder their way along. The police instantly charged, swinging their clubs

The Marchers Fled Wildly, Some Run- ning in the doorway of the Union

League Club, while others sought safety in the postoffice building. Others turned south into Clark street, but were quickly captured and placed under arrest.

Leader Knocked Down.

Reisman showed some resistance and he was handled in vigorous style. He was felled by a blow from a policeman's club and he was knocked down and his clothing torn. When he regained his feet he shouted:

"Let me go, let me go; I know the chief of police. He has at once taken to the police headquarters followed by a crowd of 2,000 people.

After reaching the station Reisman said:

"I was arrested without cause, and was treated badly. Some policeman hit me over the head with his club.
There would have been no disorder if the police had allowed us to march through the streets as we wished to do.
All we wanted was to go to the city hall and demand that men out of work be given employment by the city."

Police Reserves Called Out.

As soon as it was known that fighting had taken place in the streets, the Chief of Police Shipp called in the reserves from the nearby stations and within a few minutes the central police station was filled with officers. Their services, however, were not needed.

Later in the afternoon another crowd gathered on the lake front, but it was broken up by a few officers sent for the purpose by Chief of Police Shipp.

Nobody was seriously hurt during the excitement, although some of the marchers will have sore heads and backs for a few days. Many of them seemed to regard the whole thing as a joke until they came into contact with the police.

Reisman and two of his followers who were arrested will be arraigned in tomorrow court tomorrow on charges of disorderly conduct and inciting a riot.

As Congress Sees It!

CASH SHORTAGE OF $100,000,000

Faced by United States Treasury, Says Chairman Tawney.

MUST REDUCE ESTIMATES

Chairman of Appropriations Committee Says No Money Can Be Spent for Rivers and Harbors or for Public Buildings.

Washington, January 23.—The urgent deficiency appropriation bill occupied the attention of the house today to exclusion of all other business.

A surprise was sprung when Chairman Tawney of the appropriations committee warned the members that the country was confronted with the certainty of a $100,000,000 deficit unless the estimates for the next fiscal year should be cut down materially.

The urgent deficiency bill carries a total appropriation of $24,074,450.
Mr. Tawney declared that he deemed it his duty to call attention to the necessity of keeping expenditures within estimated revenues. "I do not make this statement for the purpose of exciting alarm," he said, "or for the purpose of exciting any apprehension in the mind of anyone regarding the ability of our government to meet all of its obligations now existing or that this congress may create."

Continuing, Mr. Tawney said he had been ultra-conservative in his statement of the financial condition of the country.

Replying to a question by Mr. Clark of Missouri, Mr. Tawney made it plain that there would be no new appropriations this session for rivers and harbors or public buildings, for he said his calculations did not include them.

Discussion on Tariff.

A discussion on tariff revision was injected into the proceedings, in which leaders on both sides of the house tried to commit one another to a definite announcement as to whether it successful at the November election there would be tariff legislation.

Mr. Mann, of Illinois, referred to the promises of both parties that if successful they would revise the tariff, and inquired of Mr. Tawney if it was not true that always immediately preceding the revision of the tariff there was a great decline in the customs receipts of the country.

Mr. Tawney replied that such was the case, and added there was a decrease in the internal revenues as well.
Mr. Tawney stated that the estimate did not take into consideration the fact that the tariff probably would be revised, nor the effect on the revenues of the government resulting from the recent financial depression. The estimates were made prior to the money stringency.

"Is the gentleman ready to guarantee revision of the tariff providing the results of the election are favorable?"

GOV. HUGHES MAKES TROUBLE FOR ROOSEVELT

New York Executive Interferes With the President's Plans for Taft.

HUGHES IS CONSIDERED

IN PRESIDENTIAL RACE

And Politicians Think That New York Governor Will Punish
the Taft Boom in Places.
Many Republicans Bitterly Opposed to Taft.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., January 23.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt in 1906 opened a Pandora's box on the shores of the political sea and a giant came forth and took shape as Governor Charles Evans Hughes.

Once the giant was released into the political atmosphere, he became too big and too powerful ever to be coaxed back into the box which had held a bookish lawyer. President Roosevelt having given freedom to the giant, expected that giant to be tractable and obedient to the hand that had opened the box. It soon became evident that Governor Hughes was not constituted that way. He has not eaten out of the presidential hand yet.

The man whom the president picked up in 1906 out of the beaten track of a hum-drum lawyer had only strayed from those well-marked paths once, and then to prosecute the insurance investigations and reveal methods of juggling millions of money that startled the country. The president opposed both Frank S. Black, former governor, and M. Linn Bruce, lieutenant governor of New York, who were most generally favored for the nomination by the men in control of the republican machine in New York state. The president thought Hughes could win. Hughes was accordingly nominated and elected.

Having made a record as governor that has set the people all over the country to talking about him, Governor Hughes has practically announced that if the republicans want him as their nominee, he will consent to enter the lists for the presidency.

Thus the man whom Roosevelt made governor becomes the most dangerous popular opponent of the man whom Roosevelt would make president.

Abortive Attempt to Declare Portugal a Republic.

CONSPIRATORS ARE TAKEN

The Plot Contemplated the Assassination of Premier Franco and the Driving of the Royal Family From the Country.

Lisbon, January 23.—By courier to Badajoz, Spain, January 23.—An abortive attempt to overthrow the monarchy and proclaim Portugal a republic was nipped in the bud last night by the prompt action of the government. The plot was organized by a small group of advanced republicans. As near as can be ascertained, the plan was to assassinate Premier Franco and then depend for success upon street risings, supported by secret republican and labor organizations, armed with bombs and revolvers.

The police discovered what was in the wind early in the evening and surrounded and raided a house where the ring-leaders in the plot were conferring. When they broke in the doors, the lights were extinguished and in the confusion that followed most of the conspirators managed to make their escape. Several of them, however, were captured, including the leader, Joao Chagas, a republican journalist, who was president in the republican revolt of 1891; Franca Berger, editor of Omudo, and a merchant by the name of Grendella.

A case of revolvers and bombs was found in the cellar. A general alarm was immediately sent out, and while the prisoners were being taken to jail troops began to appear from all directions. A squadron of cavalry was placed around Premier Franco's house, and the night passed without further incident.

Elberton, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—
At the March term of Elbert superior court there will come up for trial some cases against the Elberton Air Line Railroad Company. Involving subscriptions for stock paid for without receiving certificates. An accounting since the organization of the road is also

The Southern railway owns nearly all of the stock in the Elberton Air Line, though the Elberton Air Line is maintained as a separate organization. The road is called upon to make a complete showing of its income for the past tri-year.

directors Tuesday, McEwen Johnson, of Macon, was made president; R. D. Gay, vice president; D. B. Teabaut, cashier.

WHEELS IN HEAD OF HARRY THAW SO EXPERTS SAY

Reign of the Alienist Has Begun in the Celebrated Murder Trial.

THAW SAW IN TRAGEDY
AN ACT OF PROVIDENCE.

Prisoner Said He Had Not Intended to Kill White, but Providence Took the Matter Out of His Hands—Trial to End
Next Week.

New York, January 23.—When an early adjournment of the Thaw trial was taken today in order to enable the attorneys for the defense to prepare their long hypothetical question covering all the evidence in the case, there seemed no longer any doubt that next week will bring the second hearing to a close. Justice Dowling has decided to limit each side to three expert witnesses, and two of the defense's triuphant revelations as to the facts of the mental and physical examinations they made on Harry Thaw in the Tombs prison following his arrest for the killing of Stanford White.

No experts for the state have yet appeared in the court room, and Mr. Jerome has not indicated the manner in which he will combat the testimony of the alienists in the employ of the defense. All of the doctors who served Mr. Jerome at the first hearing are under subpoena, but as possible witnesses in rebuttal of any action the district attorney may take in rebutting the insanity plea that has been built up.

Jerome Turns on Evelyn's Mother.

Mr. Jerome turned the tables yesterday upon Mrs. William Thaw by reading to the jury the affidavits she made a year ago to the lunacy commission which was testing her son's condition of mind, and the defense may now be hearing the first hearing of the alienists admit upon the stand that they made affidavits a year ago in which they expressed the opinion that Harry Thaw was suffering from incurable mania and was a victim of that mental malady for many years.

The defense should conclude its evidence tomorrow unless Mr. Jerome extends his cross-examination beyond the limit of his present intention.

Dr. Charles O. Wagner, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Dr. Britton D. Evans, of Morris Plains, N. J., both superintendents of state institutions for the insane, were on the stand today. In detailing their conversations with Thaw in the Tombs, they brought out more clearly two points which were made over last year. The first of these was to the effect that Thaw had told them that in 1900 or 1901 he had been a guest of Stanford White at a dinner party in the Madison Square garden tower. He had left early and been accused of breaking up the party. Some of the guests did not eat much, Thaw declared, and the young woman who sat next to him declared the food was bad.

Thaw Said Evelyn Looked "Pure."

Thaw also told the physicians of the first time he saw Evelyn Nesbit. It was in 1901, in front of a theater. "A pure looking girl," he described her.
When he asked who she was he was

The European witnesses who are yet to be heard for the defense, will arrive tomorrow morning on the steamer to have them there at that time, as Mr.

appeared at the last trial.

Thaw's Ravings on Train.

Dr. Charles L. Bailey, of Albany, N.

Y., was called as the first witness today.

Dr. Bailey attended Thaw on a New York Central railway train between

Hudson and Albany in April, 1906.

"When I was called in to see him,"

said the witness, Thaw was chattering something like: "Chesta, Shasta, Shasta," the Pennsylvania running the New York Central. He kept on repeating this for some time. His eyes were bulging and he appeared unsteady. I gave him a hypodermic of morphine with the assistance of the porter. When Thaw saw the syringe he became quiet, and said that the stuff was very close to him, and could not detect the odor of alcohol."

On cross-examination Dr. Bailey said

Thaw did not respond to his interrogations, but rambled on incoherently. His pulse was about 90.

Dr. Charles G. Wagner, of Birmingham,

N. Y., succeeded Dr. Bailey on the stand.

District Attorney Jerome and Mr. Littelle had at a long conference as to the admissibility of Thaw's statements, and

Dr. Wagner and Evans in the Tombs finally held that the statements were admissible as the basis for the expert opinion formed by the alienist.

Washington, January 23.—The speaker laid before the house of representatives today the response of Secretary of the Navy Metcalf to the resolution introduced by Representative Gill of Maryland, calling for the correspondence that had taken place relative to the designation of staff officers to naval commands. The correspondence is voluminous, dating back to 1904. When Acting Secretary Darling authorized medical officers to use the term of "in command of" instead of "in charge of" to designate their official positions.

An interesting paper among them is an endorsement by Admiral Converse, then chief of the navigation bureau, dated June 4, 1906, upon a proposition of a board of medical officers of the army and navy to place hospital ships in the command of surgeons. In that case Admiral Converse recommended against the placing of hospital ships in commission in time of peace, and also against the placing of medical officers in command, even with civilian crews.

Letter of Admiral Brownson.

The new matter in the correspondence, however, about which Congress particularly desired information, came from a memorandum prepared by Admiral Brownson, then chief of the bureau, dated November 18 last, anticipating the admiral's resignation, and stating that whether hospital ships or not, such vessels as the Relief must accompany a fleet to fulfill their purposes, and to do so must be navigated by a competent pilot, a man-of-war.

Existing regulations give medical officers all necessary authority to control and care for their department on board such a ship. Yet the surgeon general seems to believe that the navigation of a medical officer which fits him for such a command. It requires just as skillful a navigator to pilot a hospital ship as it does to pilot a man-of-war.

Discipline Must Be Maintained.

In addition to the navigation of the vessel and administration thereof, the discipline of the crew must be maintained, and for this purpose, no complete control over the discipline of the personnel on board a hospital ship when a part of it is amenable only to one set of laws and the other to the navy regulations.

Admiral Brownson next enters into an analysis of the statutory law bearing on this subject, all of which, he declares, are prohibitive of the full exercise of command by medical officers.

Admiral Brownson summarizes his objections to the proposed order as follows:

"1. It is directly contrary to law for the medical officer to exercise military command in any other than his own corps."

"2. Divided responsibility leads to confusion and poor administration."

"3. Experiments, both with the Solace in the Spanish-American war, and with auxiliaries on the Asiatic station, show conclusively that the only practical organization for the fleet auxiliary is to have a full naval crew and officers."

"4. A sea-going ship, to be efficient, must of necessity be commanded by a sea-going officer."

Surgeon General Rixey's Plea.

The last chapter in the correspondence, a new one also, is a reply by Surgeon General Rixey to Admiral Brownson's memorandum, under date of January 22. The surgeon general declares that he never asked that medical officers be entrusted with the navigation of hospital ships. On the contrary, he had asked that the bureau of navigation select a sailing master and crew to navigate the ship, all orders to and from the sailing master to pass through the senior surgeon, "who will be in command."

The surgeon general states that neutrality of the hospital ships demanded that line officers and fighting crews should not be put aboard. He contends that the merchant master and merchant sailors are as efficient in pilotage and navigation as line officers and a fighting crew.

Judge Ellis Refuses to Name Receiver for Potts-Thompson Company.

According to a decision by Judge Ellis in the case of the Goodrum Tobacco Company v. Potts-Thompson Liquor Company, yesterday morning, whisky may be considered as property in Georgia, despite the fact that there is a prohibition law. The court holds that although it may not be sold within the boundaries of the state by the sheriff or other officer, he could direct a receiver to contract a sale with parties outside for the delivery out of the state of the liquors rightfully seized by the court.

The opinion was brought about by the petition of the J. J. Goodrum company before Judge Ellis to secure a restraining order and the appointment of a receiver for the whisky company, to prevent them from taking away from the state their assets. In order that the plaintiff might recover $28,125 alleged to be due on a lease on the property at the corner of Decatur and Peachtree streets.

The judge refused to grant the petition for a receiver, dissolved the temporary restraining order, and abolished the temporary receiver, J. L. Anderson. On motion from the plaintiff's attorney for a new trial, a supercedas was granted, on condition that the plaintiff give bond for $20,000 by Saturday at noon for the protection of the defendant's assets pending the appeal to the supreme court.

The bone of contention on the part of the tobacco company was that the Potts-Thompson company was insolvent, and that its whisky could not be considered as an asset. The court disagreed with this, holding the defendant was perfectly solvent.

The plaintiff was represented by Hudson Moore, of Moore & Pomeroy; the defendants by H. C. Peoples, of Tye, Peoples, Bryan & Jordan.

CASE GOES FROM APPEAL COURT

First Appeal From New Court to United States Supreme Court.

A writ of error was sanctioned yesterday by Chief Judge Ben H. Hill of the state court of appeals, to the supreme court of the United States, in the first case to be carried up from the new Georgia appellate court.

The case is that of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railroad Company, plaintiffs in error, against Pless & Blads of Cordele, defendants in error, from the city court of Cordele.

Some cars of the railroad company were attached in Cordele under a claim held by the defendants in error, and the city court held the attachment valid. This decision was affirmed by the state court of appeals.

The decision is contested on the ground that the cars were used for interstate traffic, and that such attachment was, therefore, in violation of the interstate commerce law. It is on this ground that the supreme court of the United States is to be asked to pass on the matter.

The principle involved is one of great importance to litigants in the state and particularly to foreign railroad companies, and a final decision will be awaited with no small interest.

The railroad company which took the case up is represented by Crum & Jones of Cordele, and the defendants in error by J. T. Hill of the same city.

WILL HOLD TWO PARADES.

The Order Will Make Parade Less Trying on Veterans.

Birmingham, Ala., January 23.—Adjutant General William E. Mickie, of the United Confederate Veterans, has notified the arrangements committee for the annual reunion to be held in Birmingham, June 9, 10 and 11, that two parades will be given this year. In one parade are to be no persons except actual veterans. In the other will be the sponsors, maids, national guards and all others. This is an innovation which it is believed will make the parade less trying on the aging veterans.

CAUSE OF WRECK WAS NOT FOUND

Commission's Experts as Puzzled Over It as Railroad Officials.

The railroad commission has been going carefully over reports made by two of its experts relative to the recent wreck on the Southern railway near Vicksburg, and also the report made by the railroad officials at the commission's request.

It now develops that the commission's track experts assign no cause for the wreck, and it remains as much a mystery to them as to the officials of the railroad company.

At the request of Chairman McLeod, the chief train dispatcher carried to the commission's office the train sheet for that day, showing in detail the movement of every train on that particular track. From this it was apparent that at no time was the Florida special running wildly, and the third section which was wrecked, was running but little more than 25 miles an hour when derailed.

An examination of the track at the point of derailment, about thirty-five feet north of Coppermine trestle, shows that the track was in good condition at the time, carrying practically new eighty-pound steel rails. There were no defects found in any of the trestle timbers.

It is evident, then, from the thorough investigation which the commission's experts have made into this wreck, that the real cause of it will never be known. The most available supposition is that it was caused by some defect beneath the empty baggage car or the empty tender which resulted in the derailment and the consequent wreck of the entire train.

When the commission has completed a full examination of all the facts in hand, which will be within a few days, a statement regarding it will be made to the public.

RICE BRANS NOT UP TO STANDARD

Commissioner of Agriculture Orders Sale of Several Feeds Stopped.

In accordance with a report of State Chemist Stallings, who has made an examination and analysis of a number of rice brans and other feed stuffs for cattle, and found that they do not comply with the requirements of the pure food law, commissioner of Agriculture T. G. Hudson yesterday issued an order specifying the required composition of rice brans, and requiring that the sale shall be stopped of those reported on which fall below the standard.

Commissioner Hudson's order on this subject is as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., January 23, 1908.—Under the authority vested in me by section 22 of the food and drugs act of Georgia, I hereby declare that the following shall be the standard for rice bran in the state of Georgia:

Protein, 12.50 per cent; fat, 10 per cent; fiber, 10 per cent.

The standard for rice polish:

Protein, 11.50 per cent; fat, 7 per cent; fiber, 8.50 per cent.

Any manufacturer, dealer or jobber offering for sale any rice bran or rice polish in the future that does not come up to the above standards will be prosecuted under the food and drugs act.

The inspector has reported that there are several brands on the market without guarantee tags. In the future all feeding stuffs must bear the guarantee tag with the minimum percentage of protein and fat and the maximum percentage of crude fiber.

I hereby order that the feeding stuff, "Molasses," be seized and stopped from sale for the reason that the manufacturers have failed to register the brand and the fiber was found to be in excess of that guaranteed. I order that the feeding stuff, "Victor Feed," be stopped from sale until the manufacturers comply with the law.

I order that the brands of rice bran containing rice hulls be stopped from sale.

T. G. HUDSON,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

ULTIMATUM SENT SECRETARY TAFT

He Must Do Certain Things or Face a Fight in Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., January 23.—(Special.)—According to local report, the Davidson wing of the republican party in the state has sent word to Mr. Taft that he will have to see to three things before the members of the faction will give him support—first, that no member of the state committee be an office holder; second, that Frank Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general, have no say in Alabama affairs, and third, that delegates to the national convention be chosen on the basis of the vote for Roosevelt in the last election and not by population.

It is charged that the dominant wing of the party, headed heretofore by J. O. Thompson and Charles Scott, is an office-holding trust and does not represent the party. It is also charged that democratic influence be eliminated by the retirement of Mr. Thompson, who, they say, is influenced by Booker T. Washington, who is, in turn, disposed to favor the democrats in the distribution of offices. It is said that Mr. Taft has refused to dicker with the "outs," as represented by the Davidson wing, although there is no objection on their part to Mr. Scott, a hearty Taft man and one of the referees of the state.

The threat is thrown out that if these things are not done the members of the faction will go to the national convention with a contesting delegation and tell a whole lot of tales out of school.

GOV. FOLK FOR THE SENATE.

Announces His Candidacy for Senator From Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 23.—Governor Folk today gave out an announcement of his candidacy for the United States senatorship to succeed Senator W. J. Stone.

In his announcement, Governor Folk states in part:

"If I can be of service to the party and those who believe in the ideas I have been advocating by allowing my name to be considered for United States senator, I shall do so. I shall continue to fight in official position if the people desire; if they release me from further official duties I shall fight on in private life for the principles I have battled for to the best of my ability in public station.

"As to the gubernatorial nomination, I have no more interest in that than in any other Missouri democratic."

SOUTH AND WEST GOT LITTLE CASH

During the Recent Crisis, Declares Senator Stone.

CORTELYOU IS ATTACKED

Stone Charges That Cortelyou Used Government Millions to Favor the Banks in New York and New England and Discriminated Against South and West.

Washington, January 23.—Senator Stone, of Missouri, today presented statistics of government deposits in national banks to show that the distribution of money during the recent currency stringency was not "equitable," as contemplated by the law governing the treasury department. He declared that the west and south were discriminated against, while New York and Boston were favored. His speech was on his resolution pending in the senate directing a committee to investigate and report the facts in these transactions.

Mr. Stone read from official statements showing that on August 22, 1907, there was deposited in national banks $143,282,393 and on December 3, 1907, $223,117,083, an increase in four months of $79,834,690. He found that this increased deposit had been distributed so as to give New England an increase of 47 per cent over the former amount placed there, the middle states an increase of 34 per cent; the southern states 35 per cent, the middle western states 37 per cent; the western states 10 and the Pacific states 9 per cent.

Startling Condition Shown.

"These increases found," he said, "show a startling condition in the deposit of money in the different sections and shows to my mind an indifference to and an utter failure to observe the requirements of the law."

Senator Burrows of Michigan, said that he had a statement of the distribution of the money referred to from August 22 to December 3, 1907, and it showed that New England was entitled to 100 per cent and received 57 per cent. The eastern states were entitled to 44 1/2 per cent and received 50 per cent; the eastern states and New England together were entitled to 55 per cent and had 55 per cent of the deposits. The southern states as a whole were entitled to 35 per cent and received 13 per cent. The middle west was entitled to 23 1/2 per cent and received 20 per cent. The western states were entitled to 5 per cent and had 4 per cent, and the Pacific states were entitled to 4 1/2 per cent and received 6 1/2 per cent.

Mr. Burrows said he had made his calculations on the basis of capital and surplus of the banks in the several sections.

In answer to a statement by Mr. Stone that southern and western banks send their money to New York, Mr. Burrows declared that they did so merely in order to receive the large rates of interest and not because of any control exercised over them.

$47,000,000 for New York Banks.

Mr. Stone declared that the treasury department had had in three and one-half months placed $47,000,000 in the banks of New York "in order that they might loan it out."

If he (Mr. Stone) had made the distribution of money, he said, he would have taken into consideration the population and the geographical location of the states and would not have made it on the basis of the capital and surplus of banks.

Senator Teller followed with brief comments upon the action of the secretary of the treasury, declaring that the placing of money in New York city during the panic was fully justified. He paid a high tribute to the rich men who, he said, had promptly offered practically their entire capital in order to stem the tide of disaster in that city which threatened the entire country.

"It is possible," he said, "that the treasury department did not distribute the money in proportion either to the banking capital or of population, but there was one storm center of the whole trouble."

Teller Praises Rich Men.

"In my judgment, the secretary of the treasury could not have served the country better than by putting the money in New York city. There were twelve or fifteen trust companies there that were in condition to go to the wall. They needed the money. The banks came to their relief. If they had failed there would have been a failure of banks practically all over the country."

"This is the age of criticism of people who have money. They have been charged with having brought on this panic. Some of the rich men of this country who have been paraded in the magazines as people inordinately rich, put up practically their entire capital to tide over disaster in the panic. One man put up $40,000,000. Some of these rich men could have made a great deal of money by letting the banks fail."

Mr. Teller expressed the opinion that the financial stringency had been brought on by over-speculation and overvaluation. He approved the plan for paper money amounting to $500,000,000, to be issued in case of financial disasters.

The senate devoted the latter part of the session to a consideration of the bill to revise the criminal code and at 4:14 p. m. adjourned until Monday.

NEW CHAPTER WRITTEN IN FRENZIED FINANCE

"This," said Recorder Broyles yesterday when, in hearing the case against a young negro named Will Thomas, it was shown that the negro had pawned a one-dollar gold coin for fifty cents, "is a new chapter in frenzied finance. It was a shame to take the money, I must say."

The negro attempted to establish by his brother the fact that he had obtained the coin from him, but it was ascertained that his possession of the coin and his brilliant financing, when he pawned it for half its value, was coincident with the disappearance of two such gold coins from the pocket of a coat which a young white man had hung up in his place of business, and at which the negro worked.

Judge Broyles fined the boy who pawned the gold dollar $15.75, and ordered the pledged coin to be returned to the white man from whose pocket it had been taken.

TILLMAN SPOKE ON NEGRO. 58 NEGROES ATTEND REPUBLICAN RALLY

He Addressed the South Carolina General Assembly.

Columbia, S. C., January 23.—Senator B. R. Tillman, in an address before the general assembly tonight, advocated the repeal of the fifteenth amendment and the encouragement of desirable immigration as a means to offset, as he said, inevitable negro domination in the states in which the blacks predominate.

He said that with the regular education fund of the several states, coupled with that of northern philanthropists, the negro would soon be able to comply with the constitutional requirements of the various southern states and thus govern where they outnumber the whites.

He believed, from primaries in the north and west, that those sections would help the south to repeal the fifteenth amendment.

The "old time republican rally" at Pleasant Valley Methodist church, on Mathews street, West End, was attended by fifty-eight people—forty-seven negro men and eleven negro women.

Apart from the press representatives, there was one white man present—Tom Blodgett, organizer and director of the Georgia State Republican League. Benjamin Towles, J. Humphreys, Charles Davis and Rev. Dry, pastor of the church, spoke, calling upon those present to pay their taxes and make ready to vote.

Tom Blodgett was introduced. He was frequently applauded by his hearers. He declared that he should be sent to the republican national presidential convention. At the end of the meeting the gathering declared Mr. Blodgett its choice for delegate to the national convention.

Ignorance Not Bliss.

"There is a certain gnawing uncertainty about calling on people who speak a different language from their servants," remarked the woman who does. "You can never tell whether they are saying, 'Make another cup of tea, Kattie, I have company,' or 'She always drops in about tea time, confound her! Pour some more hot water in the pot.'"

BLOCKING OF CROSSINGS CAUSE MANY COMPLAINTS

Much complaint is being made about the railroad trains which keep the Pryor street and Central avenue crossings frequently blocked, and pour smoke and cinders over the Whitehall street viaduct and the Broad and Forsyth street bridges.

It had been fervently hoped that when the belt lines were built around the city much of the switching of cars through town would cease. When the Louisville and Nashville completed its belt line, the fact was heralded with a public meeting and much stress was laid on the benefit which would be derived from freight trains being no longer hauled through the center of the city.

It is now a daily occurrence for trains to block the two crossings and people passing over the viaduct and bridges have to endure smoke and cinders that not only make passage disagreeable, but injure the stocks of merchants near whose places of business are the crossings.

It is said that merchants have complained of their goods being damaged. The complaints of people who have had their faces filled with smoke and their clothing damaged by cinders have been innumerable.

Those who have suffered are calling upon the city officials to give them some relief. They are calling attention to the fact that crossings are being blocked, people being disturbed with smoke and cinders, and stocks of goods injured.

What the Mayor Says.

Mayor Joyner, when asked about the matter, said:

"Of course I know that something ought to be done, but I don't see what we can do, since the trains pass over the state right-of-way and the right-of-way owned by the Georgia railroad. I understand that efforts have been made in the past to stop so many trains passing through the center of the city and that nothing could be done. I am informed that since the building of the belt lines the moving of cars through the city has been greatly decreased. I have advocated the Pryor street underpass because I felt that people ought to have some way to cross over Pryor street without having to wait for trains to get out of the way."

In some cities the railroads are required to move trains with electric engines. One side of the question is that the city cannot force the railroads because of the state's right-of-way across the street; the other side is that the city has the power to enforce any law which is for the regulation of railroads and to protect the people against inconvenience and injury.

Since the matter has been agitated it is probable that some member of council will introduce a measure to regulate and decrease, if possible, the moving of so many trains through the city.

ARGUMENTS ARE NOW CONCLUDED

Judge Jones Takes Rate Case Under Advisement

DECISION EXPECTED SOON

Closing Speech for the State Was Made by Horace Stringfellow, and for the Roads by Gregory L. Smith—Status of Situation.

Montgomery, Ala., January 23.—The arguments in the railroad rate litigation before Judge Thomas G. Jones, in the United States court, came to an end today. The matter has been taken under advisement, the oral arguments to be supplemented by briefs and affidavits. It is not likely that Judge Jones will reach a decision for several days. The closing speeches were made for the state by Horace Stringfellow and for the railroads by Gregory L. Smith, of the counsel for the Louisville and Nashville. In the meantime the rate and regulation acts of the recent session of the legislature are held up by a restraining order issued by Judge Jones some weeks ago.

Status of the Situation.

The status of the situation is this: At the January session the legislature passed a number of rate laws, which, by order of the federal court, were suspended by an injunction in May pending an investigation of the charges that they were confiscatory. At an extra session in November as an attempt to get the matter out of the federal court, the legislature repealed the laws enjoined and took away the right of any officer of the state to enforce them.

After that was done the same railroads that were then fighting the old laws asked for an extension of the old injunctions to the new laws, arguing that the new laws were nothing less than developments, or amendments of the old, pending the hearing on which Judge Jones issued an order restraining enforcement until both sides could be heard. Out of this has grown the argument just ended. The state has held the old laws cannot be supplemented, as they are repealed, and the litigation on them abated.

The railroads say they can; that the new laws are worse than the old; that they are confiscatory and unconstitutional in that they give no court review.

The Contending Roads.

The railroads fighting the acts are the Central of Georgia, the Western of Alabama and the Louisville and Nashville. The Central Trust Company of New York is also a party, asking that the rates be excluded from the Central of Georgia because they would make it impossible for the road to pay interest on bonds which it holds.

YANKEE CONSUL MIXED IN PLOT

Charles Miot Dismissed for Aiding Haitian Revolutionists.

A WIDESPREAD CONSPIRACY

Secret Service Agents Say Plotters Planned Not Only Revolution in Haiti, but Also in San Domingo and Cuba.

Washington, January 23.—Startling developments in the plot to overthrow the government of President Norval in Haiti have followed the investigations of the secret service agents in New York in connection with the arrest of Jose M. Giordani on the charge of counterfeiting Haitian money. The officers say they have ascertained that the prisoner was the agent of a formidable conspiracy whose operations probably would have extended beyond the limits of Haiti into Santo Domingo as well, being the head of the revolution in Haiti being a success. The agents in New York remained unmolested. It was found among other things, the secret service operatives declare, that certain persons in Haiti, mostly Frenchmen and Corsicans, and one of them a brother of Giordani, were active agents of the alleged conspirators and were designated in the papers found among Giordani's effects by numbers.

By careful inquiry the secret service men were able to connect these numbers with the proper persons and the first result was to fix upon Charles Miot, the American consular agent at St. Marc, as one of the persons to whom a number had applied. Upon learning this fact last evening the state department immediately cabled to American Minister Furness at Port au Prince to discontinue his agent at once from the employment of the United States. Then action was taken because the state department feels that it must keep itself absolutely free from any appearance of sympathy with rebellious movements in Latin-American republics.

Lots of Bogus Money.

At the time of his arrest Giordani had in his possession counterfeit Haitian paper money to the face value of $600,000, 2,000 Remington rifles and 230,000 rounds of ammunition, all of which, it is said, was intended for Haitian revolutionists.

Six or seven months ago, when this government was advised by Provisional Governor Magon that a small party of malcontents were trying to stir up a revolution in Cuba, it was discovered that Giordani was connected with them. At that time it developed that he had represented General Magon during the Haitian uprising in 1902. Firmly then, as now, being the head of the revolutionary party. About that time Giordani came to New York and ever since then the secret service officials have had him under close surveillance.

RAZOR UNDER PILLOW,

HIS WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE

Alleging that her husband slept with a razor under his pillow every night and threatened her life, Ethel T. Williams filed suit for divorce from Charles Sylvester Williams in the superior court yesterday afternoon.

The petitioner says she has been married since 1893, and it was only a year ago that she was compelled to leave her husband, whom she asserts has been treating her cruelly and constantly made remarks to the effect that he would take her life.

It is very clearly stated in the petition that Sylvester Williams has been in the habit of sleeping on a razor at night.

PITTMAN FIRES ON PARK BOARD

Aldermen Will Investigate Acts of the 1907 Park Board.

FINANCE SHEET IS ADOPTED

Several Objections Were Made to Report of Finance Committee, But They Were Voted Down. Protest Filed Against Wage Cutting.

At the called meeting of council, held yesterday afternoon, the 1908 appropriation sheet was adopted with no change whatever. Shortly after the meeting of council the aldermanic board met and ratified the action of council by a unanimous vote.

Jerome Jones, editor of The Journal of Labor, and Charles Bernhardt, formerly president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, appeared before council and interposed a strong objection to the cutting of wages of the negro employees in the sanitary department. This objection was based on the theory that if these wages were cut it would doubtless have an effect in reducing the wages of other classes at this particular time. The statements of both Mr. Jones and Mr. Bernhardt were given a careful hearing, but, as stated, the sheet was adopted as recommended.

The distinct feature of a resolution, introduced by Alderman Pittman, calling for an investigation of the acts of the park board of 1907. The resolution provides that the mayor pro tem. shall appoint a committee to make this investigation. Mayor Pro Tem Quillian will announce his special committee.

Ever since last summer there have been rumors afloat—some of them vague and indefinite—covering the condition of Grant park, its shabby appearance and the fact that certain funds had been exhausted. It is to get at the bottom of these rumors that caused the introduction of the Pittman resolution.

Objections Were Made.

The appropriation sheet was taken up by departments. When the department of army and auditorium reached Councilman Huddleston moved that the appropriation for the auditorium be deferred until a later date. Councilman Grant explained why this could not well be done. Councilman Lee Smith questioned the appropriation for Old Woman's Home, stating that if any cut was to be made council could not afford to cut this one item. It was voted down.

Alderman Key questioned the employment of the superintendent of teams for the department of public works. His objection was voted down.

Alderman Pearce introduced an ordinance to allow members of council to smoke during meetings. It was lost.

FOR STANDARD TRUST CO.

Allegations Made That the Company Contracted to Make Annually $750 Interest on Each $1,000.

Lexington, Ky., January 23.—Suit was filed in the circuit court here today by Benjamin M. Lanning, of this city, against the Standard Trust Company, of Birmingham, Ala., asking that a receiver be appointed for the company. Allegations are made in the petition that the company contracted to invest and handle the earnings and compound interest that $750 interest would be paid annually on each $1,000. Petitioners charge that the promises were fraudulent and false and were used for the purpose of getting them to invest; that the promises were a lottery and known to be false by the officers when they made them; that the company was known to be impossible of performance.

Juggling of serial numbers in the contracts is also charged. The plaintiffs say that the company is insolvent and has been so for two years. Liabilities are said to be $300,000, and the assets not more than $175,000. The petitioners state that the company has been in the hands of the receiver since the company was incorporated under the laws of Delaware with capital stock of $500,000.

PUTS ON TWO CENT BOOKS.

M. K. & T. Granted Permission to Issue Cheaper Mileage Books.

Austin, Texas, January 23.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, of Texas, today applied to the state railroad commission for authority to sell one thousand-mile passenger transportation books at the rate of two cents per mile, good over the entire system, as well as over the company's lines in this state. The application was granted effective February 18.

This action has caused considerable surprise in railroad circles and it is believed it would result in a rate reduction. An effort was recently made by the railroad commission to have adopted a two and one-half-cent rate, but was not successful.

Bachman, J. W. Willis, Francis Kamper, A. W. Farlinger.

Record of New President.

The new president has for a long time stood high in this community. His ability as a lawyer and a business man makes him one of the most capable men in the city for the position. He has been interested in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association for several years.

It was reported during the meeting that the association is in better condition than it ever has been, and steps will be taken this year to make it greater, better and larger. The educational department was especially commented upon in congratulatory terms.

The registration in the physical department for the year of 1907 amounted to nearly 4,000 members. Those who attend the religious services held on Sunday afternoon averaged 650. There are 120 constant attendants in the educational department.

The physical department is in charge of Professor T. R. Weems. His active general secretary is an efficient young man, both in the religious department and in the management of the association, is John S. Tilley. His assistant is R. M. Hopkins. The membership secretary is Robert H. Lamkin.

Among the prominent and commendable features about the Young Men's Christian Association is that it is non-sectarian and affords religious, educational and physical culture for those who wish to attend.

Another meeting will be held next week by the board of directors.

The offense was having in his possession game while on a common carrier without at the same time having a license to hunt with him. WOMEN TAKING ACTIVE PART Letter Sent Out by Mrs. Granger Urging Women to Write to the Members of House Committee—Other Forces at Work.

By ISMA DOOLY.

While Georgia's governor is in communication with representative men in all sections of the state, organizing the delegation to join with similar ones from all states and sections in the fight that will be made in Washington next week for the White Mountain Appalachian bill, the governors of other states are similarly busy. Delegations, independent of these, of state appointment, are being sent by chambers of commerce and boards of trade on all sides.

The city of Charlotte, N. C., alone will send a delegation of forty men, representing the Manufacturers' Club, and the city at large.

South Carolina is similarly active. The board of trade of Louisville are sending a citizens' committee, as well as from the chamber of commerce, and similar action is being taken in Memphis.

Women Working.

No more active or systematic work is being done in the interest of the forestry movement than that of the organized women of Georgia. Mrs. A. O. Granger, a member of the state forestry committee, has sent to the leading newspaper men of the state the following letter:

Mr. Editor: Following the able address in Georgia of Enos Mills, the government's field worker on forestry perpetuation, comes a bit of practical work for each of us to do, and I beg of you and your readers to help in this at once.

The bill for the creation of the Appalachian national forest is to come up at Washington on the 18th of this month. Our senators are a unit in its favor, so we do not need to write to them. It has been impossible to get it to a fair vote in the house, we are told, because of the opposition of the speaker. This time it is in his favor, so we do not need to write to him. It shall be presented depends upon us.

Also let us all write to our own representatives asking him to do all in his power to procure the passage of the bill creating the Appalachian national forest. We wish to keep our Georgia pines by perpetuating our forests, and thus to protect our peaches, corn and cotton from sudden climatic changes and keep our water power in upper condition. Please help us. Sincerely yours, etc.

If thousands of such letters reach the committee the bill will pass. Do not omit any; they are:

Representatives Charles F. Scott, Kansas; Cole, Ohio; Pollard, Nebraska; Gilliam, Indiana; McLaughlin, Michigan; Hawley, Oregon; Cook, Colorado; Beall, Texas; Virginia, Kentucky; Lorimer, Illinois; and Hagen, Iowa.

MRS. A. O. GRANGER.Mrs. Granger Talks.

In communicating this to a correspondent of The Constitution over the long distance phone, Mrs. Granger said:

"Georgia must bestir herself about the Appalachian national forest, because it will mean the perpetuation of our Georgia pines by having the wood out in such a way as to maintain the supply; because our rivers must be kept from receiving more of the swill, which now washes from our farms."

"Because our crops must be saved from devastating floods and climatic changes; because it was Hon. Hoke Smith who, while secretary of the interior, inaugurated the scientific care of our national forests."

Alabama Lawmakers Act.

At the recent special session of the Alabama legislature, as has been previously stated, a bill was passed creating a forest commission to take charge of her forests and see that they are properly used.

"When the executive committee of our state federation meets at an early date we will formulate plans for the presentation through our representatives of a bill in the next meeting of the Georgia legislature asking for the creation of a forestry commission, similar to that created in Alabama," said a prominent Atlanta woman when interviewed as to the work to be carried on by women in forestry.

"Although for the present we are co-operating in the movement to obtain national legislation, the White Mountain and the Appalachian bill to come before congress this month, our forestry

COLDER TODAY; SOME FAIRNESS

Chilly Winds Created Sensation Near All High Buildings Yesterday.

The weather: Fair and much colder today. An increased energy took possession of the northwestern high area yesterday, and it moved eastward at a rapid gait. The precipitation has been very light. The advance of the nor-wester will undoubtedly bear out the prediction made by the forecaster. A minimum temperature of 20 degrees is expected early this morning.

A howling wind, blowing from 48 to 60 miles an hour, spread more discomfort on the streets than almost anything this winter. It took courage, almost as much courage as required to go into a battle, to walk near the taller buildings. Those who were physically able to bend their way in that direction have all voiced the opinion that few ladies could be seen. It was mostly skirts and ankles. A coveted sight, but who could dare take advantage of it, for something was blowing and in the bad man's eyes every time he would try a wink? It wasn't so cold, but the wind made you think it.

The spread-eagle attorney was fighting for his client. His vigorous outburst of legal epithets, along with parables that even Macaulay would have longed to have found, and his virulent argument was creating a sensation in the court room. The officials craned their necks to get just one look, the negroes in the gallery shuddered, the ceiling began to crack, and the softest commenced to squirm in his chair, when the counsel suddenly stopped, pointing to the defendant: "Where is the rest of the money you promised me?" The guilty man hesitated, and then a voice rang out from the jury box:

"For goodness sake! The thermometer only went down to 48 degrees yesterday morning."

BOND OF E. O. ZEALEY FORFEITED BY COURT

Upon the non-appearance of E. O. Zealey, the young man who is charged with misappropriating funds belonging to the Jellico Coal and Coke Company, his bond was forfeited by Judge Roan yesterday.

Several months ago Zealey was arrested on the charge of taking in the neighborhood of $500 from the coal company. He gave bond for $850, and has not been seen since.

Preston Arkwright, of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, went the bond, and will not be held liable for the $850, provided he produces Zealey at the next term of the court.

Receiver Was Appointed.

Rome, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed this afternoon against W. B. Davis, proprietor of the Rome Racket store, and C. E. Carpenter, was appointed receiver. Davis' assets are estimated at $1,800 and his liabilities at from $1,500 to $2,000.

COMMISSION'S BULLETINS.

Will Issue Them Periodically for the Benefit of Georgia's Shippers.

The railroad commission has issued the following circular relative to the bulletins which it has just begun to issue containing synopses of important rulings of the interstate commerce commission:

Atlanta, January 22, 1908.—To the Commercial Bodies and Newspapers of Georgia: Since the passage by congress of the Hepburn bill, which very greatly enlarges the powers of the interstate commerce commission, many questions are going to be brought before it of very great interest to the people of Georgia. Decisions of the interstate commerce commission are sent to the Georgia commission, and while most of these decisions are of no interest to the people of this state, many of them cover subjects that are of very great interest.

The Georgia railroad commission has decided that it would be of substantial service to the people of Georgia, and more particularly to those who receive and forward freight, if the most important of these interstate commerce commission decisions were put in shape by this commission for easy distribution among our own people. To this end the Georgia commission is sending out the first of a series of reference circulars, to which particular attention is invited. The commission requests each newspaper which receives a copy of this letter and our reference circular No. 1 to print the same if that be practicable for the benefit of its readers, and the commission further requests each paper receiving this to write the board at once indicating whether or not these circulars or their substance will be embodied in its columns so that the commission may not send out circulars to papers that will not use them. Very truly yours,

Grain foods contain the vital principle in greater proportion than other foods.

If you eat right, your vitality will remain at its height for years.

Grape-Nuts food is made from wheat and barley. It contains the "vital phosphates" that nature places in certain parts of the grains and is so prepared as to be quickly absorbed and converted into vital energy.

If you want to store up vital energy for the accomplishment of the greatest success, make Grape-Nuts a part of your regular diet. "There's a Reason."

SOCIETY

Conservatory of Music.

An announcement of public interest is that of the organization and establishment of what purports to be a high-grade conservatory of music in the heart of Atlanta.

A number of prominent educators and men well known in the world of affairs are backing the movement, and a handsome building for the institution is already in course of construction on Broad street, facing the Peachtree junction.

There is scarcely a plan which could more rapidly advance the artistic development of the city to a point in line with its material progress than the founding of a conservatory which should be conducted according to the highest conservatory ideals, and such is the plan of the Atlanta enterprise.

There are in Atlanta already thousands of students who are enjoying the city's educational opportunities along various lines, from literary to industrial, and the proposed school of music is intended to increase the number and to create a musical atmosphere which is as much the breath of life to the musician as the "Atlanta spirit" is to the man or woman of business.

No expense will be spared to make the new conservatory building the finest and most completely equipped for conservatory purposes in this country. A magnificent auditorium, with large pipe organ, the only hall in the city especially designed and fitted up for concert use, is an important feature of the plans, which include a structure of five stories. Most of the space above the auditorium will be devoted to professors' studios, class and lecture rooms, and a library of musical history, biography, science and criticism.

The course of study contemplated by this conservatory will be broad and thorough, second to that of no similar institution at home or abroad. The faculty will be composed of the best talent available for teaching. The management is already in communication with men of national and international fame. A full-announcement will be made later. Among the many advantages that will accrue to the city of Atlanta from the establishment of the conservatory are the talent and inspiration for an annual music festival that will be furnished by the faculty and the men and women who shall receive their training here.

The building is expected to be completed by August next, and the first session of the conservatory will begin September 1.

The following officers have been elected to carry on the work under the charter granted by the superior court of Fulton county: Wm. S. Cox, president; John W. Gaines, vice-president; Geo. W. Watkins, secretary and treasurer.

Among the prominent men who have been elected on the advisory board of trustees are: Governor Hoke Smith, Judge Eugene C. Kountz, Dr. Wm. Crenshaw, Mr. C. B. Bidwell, Dr. C. B. Wilmer, Dr. John E. White and Editor F. L. Seely.

The class of sixteen young ladies were also present, adding to the happiness of the occasion.

TIED BY THUMBS AND THRASHED
Whitecaps Lashed Physician on His Bare Back.

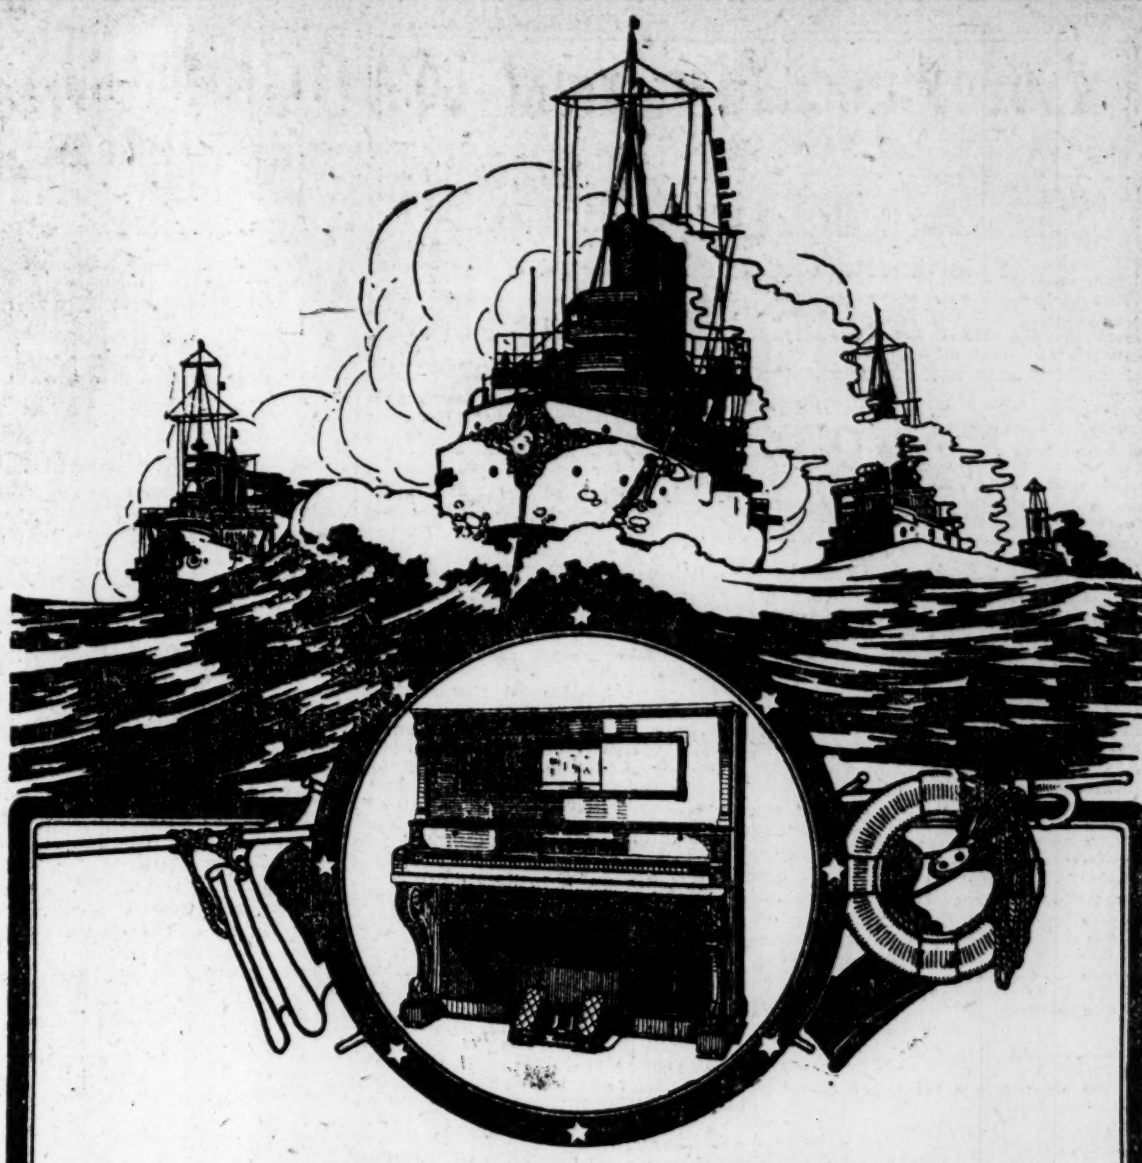

Brookfield, Mo., January 23.—Information was received here today that Dr. W. E. Carter, a veterinary surgeon of Nashville, was waylaid by white caps, strung up by the thumbs and thrashed on the bare back until he was exhausted in an effort to wring from him a confession to charge of wife beating and petty theft.

He was called eleven miles into the country, ostensibly to treat a sick animal, and was waylaid on the trip. After the punishment the masked assailants commanded him to leave the country within thirty days.

Dr. Carter has been confined to his bed because of his injuries and has endeavored to keep the matter secret. He denies the charges emphatically and expresses a determination not to leave.

26 PIANOLA PIANOS On the Battleship Squadron

ADMIRAL EVANS'S great fleet, now on its way to the Pacific Coast, carries twenty-six Pianola Pianos. They were purchased from the Aeolian Company with funds raised by the men and officers for amusement purposes.

The committees appointed from the various ships to select Piano-players contained men who were specially chosen because they were experts in the fine tones of mechanical construction.

The notable unanimity with which these various committees selected the PIANOLA PIANO from among its many imitators, is equally a tribute to the instrument itself and to the good judgment of the men who constitute the American Navy.

17 FEDERAL PRISONERS

REACH THE GATE CITY

Seventeen prisoners, consigned to the United States penitentiary, on the southern confines of the city, reached Atlanta yesterday morning on the Southern direct from Washington and within a few hours every one had been photographed, measured, given the regulation convict garb and a number.

A few days ago it was stated that one hundred convicts now doing time in the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville would be transferred to the United States penitentiary near Atlanta. But that arrangement, called off and all prisoners who are sentenced from the District of Columbia for two years or more will be sent to the federal prison here, while prisoners who are given less than two years, and all women who are convicted within the district and sentenced will be consigned to the West Virginia penitentiary, the national government having offenses of which they were convicted with that state.

The names of the prisoners and the offenses of which they were convicted who reached Atlanta Thursday morning follow:

Lewis King, assault with dangerous weapon, five years; William Snowden and Fred Joyce, housebreaking, each three years; Charles Williams, robbery, five years; Frank Adams, housebreaking and larceny, three years; Harry Atwood, housebreaking, seven years; Lewis Bateman and Henry Wilson, housebreaking, each three years; Frank Carroll, forgery, three years; Clarence W. Simms, housebreaking, three years; Charles Walton, housebreaking, five years; John Mack, assault with dangerous weapon, three years; Edward Brown, assault with dangerous weapon, four years; Delaware Ross, manslaughter, three and one-half years; James Brookings, Harry H. Wilson and James Larker, assault with dangerous weapon, each five years.

Southern Woman's Northern Home.

The popularity in the south of the brilliant Mrs. Barker Gummere of Trenton, N. J., renders most interesting accounts of her social conquests in her new home. She was Miss Daisy Breau of New Orleans when she became the bride of Mr. Andrew Symonds of Charleston. Their home there was the center of the brightest and most exclusive social life, the hostess possessing the intellect, culture and charm essentially the qualities of the social leader. Several years after Mr. Symonds' death his widow was married to the Hon. Barker Gummere of Trenton. They spent their honeymoon abroad, and recently have opened their Trenton home. In description of the home, The Daily State Gazette of Trenton has the following:

"The Gummere home is beautiful throughout. In the spacious hall there is everything to suggest a travel in foreign lands. A screen shields the entrance and hanging near is a silver embroidered saddle cloth on which one of the cars once rode into Moscow. "Directly in the rear the hall becomes a large square room with a fireplace and it is entirely Moorish. Here are arms from Fex and other foreign countries, and wide Moorish divans. All about are beautiful silken hangings. These tokens were brought to this country by Minister Gummere, a brother of Barker Gummere, who is American minister at Tangier, Morocco. There are also low Moorish tables inlaid with pearl and rare and beautiful brasses of all descriptions."

Beautiful Drawing Room.

"Adjoining at the right is a long and lofty drawing room, all in tones of soft amber. Hanging here is a great painting by Raeburn of Mrs. Gummere's father when a lad at Eton. The boy is painted midst an English park and his hand rests on the head of a stag-hound. It is six feet high by four feet in breadth. There is said to be a most striking likeness to his little granddaughter, Miss Margaret Symonds, who lives with her mother here. "The painting was a legacy to Mrs. Gummere from her aunt in Ireland and was brought here recently by Mr. and Mrs. Gummere when they returned from their honeymoon trip. Besides, there is an original Teniers, a Valasquez, a Van Dyck, a Von Seandon and a Grouse, all original. The room is furnished in old mahogany and beautiful bits and cabinets from Spain. "The dining room in the rear is of moss green. The walls are of green foliage on a white background, depicting singing birds of gay plumage in their branches. The curtains are of moss green velvet. The wainscoting is six feet high of white wood, against which the rare mahogany furniture shows to advantage. "The room opens to the library, the walls of which are paneled, with the exception of a space about them of warm crimson, where hang the portraits of Mr. Gummere's family. The room is done in crimson velvet hangings and to the rear is a view of the garden."

The Morning Room.

"Upstairs is Mrs. Gummere's morning room, a charming retreat of rose Du Barry walls, the curtains of deeper rose brocade. Her room open out of this and is paneled in white, with a border of roses. "Mr. Gummere's room is of porcelain blue and in it are rare old prints. Miss Symonds' room is next to her mother's. It is in blue, with white marqueterie. The furniture is white enamel and hanging about are photographs of famous Madonnas. "The four rooms for guests are on the third floor above and are handsomely furnished with old-fashioned mahogany furniture. The taste and culture of the host and hostess are felt throughout the house."

Fort Valley Club.

Interest in the forestry question is being manifested over the state. The Fort Valley Club at its last meeting appointed Tuesday, February 4, as "Forestry Day," at which time papers bearing on the subject will be read and methods discussed for the preservation of the southern forests.

Mrs. L. L. Brown of Fort Valley is one of the six ladies on the state committee on forestry and is an enthusiastic member of said committee.

Notable Persons.

The election of Dr. Richard Caton, J. P., to fill the important position of lord mayor of Liverpool for the ensuing year has given immense satisfaction there to all classes of the community. Distinguished alike as a skillful physician, an eminent scholar and a practical philanthropist, and also by his devotion to municipal matters affecting education and public health, Dr. Caton is a man whom his fellow-citizens have every reason to honor. The medical institutions of the city owe much to his valued services, and as a member of the council of Liverpool university his influence is highly esteemed. Mrs. Caton, no less than her husband, takes a sympathetic and practical interest in education and philanthropic work, while from the social point of view her term of office promises to be brilliant and successful.—British Exchange.

An English View.

Every member of her sex will rejoice over the distinction bestowed upon the greatest living English woman by King Edward. The name of Miss Florence Nightingale is held in honor wherever the English language is spoken; the need of the magnificent work she did in the Crimean war has increased tenfold, and blossomed into the finest nursing in the world; so that, in giving her the Order of Merit, and thus adding the first woman to the very limited number of distinguished persons on whom this honor has been bestowed, King Edward has done only what should have been done many years ago. It will be ever gratefully remembered of our tasteful sovereign that he was the first monarch to recognize the right of women as well as of men to receive honor for services rendered to their country or their fellow-men, and all women will feel that it is not only one great, good and revered woman who has been thus distinguished, but the sex generally. That the Royal Academy, the Royal Society, the Royal Astronomical Society have so far refused to admit a woman to membership, despite the fact that artistic and scientific work has been done by women which, if judged on its merits, fully entitled them to election, is as absurd as it is unjust. Year after year, Royal birthday and New Year honors lists have appeared without the name of a woman in them, though it would be easy to find a dozen or more at all times who are worthy to figure in them, and it surely says much for the patience and modesty of modern women, who are supposed to be so eager for notoriety, advertisement, and all the rest of it, that they have gone on doing really fine work of various kinds without the least hope of recognition, while they have seen honors showered on the other sex. However, justice has been done at last. A truly great woman has received such distinction as has fallen to the share of but few men, and one may reasonably hope that Miss Florence Nightingale is but the first of many women who will in some way be honored by the sovereign for distinguished services. That the first should have been one whose work has been so eminently womanly is certainly most fitting.

MARYLAND BISCUIT.

One-quarter of a pound of lard, one quart of flour, rubbed well together. Mix very stiff with cold water; knead until it is pillable, and make a popping sound under the hands as the air bubbles break; and until you can pull it down in long thin strips. These biscuits are infallible, but you have to knead hard and long before the dough will answer to them. When it does you can make the biscuits. Break off pieces about the size of an egg. Mould them into round balls, and roll three-quarters of an inch thick with a rolling pin. Stick through and through five or six times with a fork. The oven must be well heated, but not too hot, or they will be underdone in the middle and all of their excellence ruined. They will cook in twenty minutes if the oven is properly heated. A quart of flour makes twenty-four biscuits of ordinary size.

QUICK CREAM BISCUITS.

Two teaspoonsful of sifted flour, half a cupful of cream, two teaspoonsful of baking powder, one of sugar, a level teaspoonful of salt. Sift the flour, sugar, salt and baking powder together; add the cream and one well beaten egg, mixing all together with a silver knife. Handle the dough as little as possible, while making it into small round cakes. Bake in a hot oven for about ten minutes. This quantity will make about a dozen biscuits.

GEORGIA CLAIMS ARE ALLOWED

Ten Citizens of This State Figure in the Omnibus Bill.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 23.—(Special.)—The omnibus claims bill introduced by Representative Haskins providing for the payment of certain claims reported by the court of claims, includes the names of ten Georgians. These claims were allowed under provisions of the acts approved March 3, 1882, and March 3, 1887, known as the Bowman and Tucker acts. The bill of Representative Haskins directs the secretary of the treasury to settle the claims in accordance with the findings of the court. The Georgia claims reported by the court of claims are: "To G. W. Aycock, administrator of the estate of Reddick Aycock, deceased, late of Walton county, $515. "To Fannie Crow, administratrix of the estate of Levi Crow, deceased, late of Paulding county, $710. "To Plymouth Frazier, Jr., of Liberty county, $122. "To Abraham Gresson, of Gordon county, $405. "To Sabini Jones, of Pike county, $215. "To Catherine Kelton, of Fulton county, $500. "To Joe M. Moon, administrator of the estate of Elijah Pinson, deceased, late of Bartow county, $705. "To Matilda J. Smith, widow of Melvin J. Smith, deceased, late of Whitfield county, $295. "To S. Imman, administrator of the estate of Jacob B. Russell, deceased, late of Ringgold county, $3,210. "To W. C. Walsh, administrator of the estate of Millington Waldrop, deceased, late of Paulding county, $641."

UNITED STATES AND MEXICO TO CLASH OVER $70,000,000

Mexico City, January 23.—The disputed ownership of gulf islands off the Yucatan coast, worth $70,000,000, gives promise of a spirited legal clash between the United States and the Mexican government. The heirs of J. W. Taylor, deceased, claim to have acquired full title from Pascual A. Quinan, who held the islands by right of discovery. The Mexican government claims that the property is their territory. The islands in question are the Arcas keys, the largest of which is 14 miles long and about three-fourths of a mile wide. They are located 82 miles off Yucatan, and while the islands themselves are nothing more than masses of rock, they are rich in guano deposits, which Professor Hadley, of Yale university, estimated at 3,000,000 tons. The story of the islands dates back twenty-eight years to the time of their discovery by Pascual Quinan, an American, and the affidavits of the latter, on file with the state department at Washington, copies of which have been sent to Mexico City, show that Quinan landed on the largest island in the group on the morning of January 12, 1880, hoisting the Stars and Stripes and taking possession in the name of the United States. The Mexican government sets forth the islands, because of their proximity to the coast of Yucatan, are to be considered a dependency of the republic.

320,000 CARS STANDING IDLE

And Also 8,000 Locomotives as Result of Decrease in Traffic.

New York, January 23.—Figures prepared for one of the large railroad companies show that a week ago there were 320,000 idle freight cars in the United States and about 8,000 locomotives which are laid up because of the falling off of traffic. As there are 2,200,000 freight cars in the country, this would show that 14 per cent of all the cars owned by railroads are stored on railroad tracks waiting for loads. Figuring the value of cars at $1,000 each and of locomotives at $15,000 each, the statement shows that the railroads have $440,000,000 tied up in rolling stock for which there is not present use. The great shortage in rolling stock last year caused large orders for cars to be placed by railroads. As late as last October the reported shortage was 87,000 cars. It is estimated that more than 30,000 men less are needed than if all of these cars were in service. Many men have been laid off—the New York Central, for example, since the beginning of this month, has laid off enough to make a saving of $250,000 a year, in addition to previous cutting down of its forces.

JAP CABINET NOT CENSURED

Lower House of Diet Rejects Motion to That Effect.

Tokio, January 23.—A motion to censure the government was defeated in the lower house of the diet today by 177 votes to 168. The debate on the motion lasted for three hours and a half. The debate turned entirely on the budget, no mention being made of the immigration question or the government's policy thereon. An unusual feature of the vote tonight was the combination of the representatives of the progressives with the Daikoku Club and the Yoku W party. The combination represented a determined effort upon the part of the "outs" to defeat the government and force the resignation of the cabinet. Their failure now insures the cabinet remaining in power and the probable passage of the budget. The opposition speakers in the debate blamed the government for lack of foresight while the constitutionalists held that the government is unable to predict any extraordinary conditions. Marquis Saloni, the premier, repeated in the house the speech he had already made before the peers.

J WALL PAPER

It is amazing how the decorations of one's walls affect one's feelings.

Dingy, dusky, drabby walls in a room where you spend much of your time may be counted on to give you some dingy, dusky, drabby streaks of disposition.

If you are depressed, not exactly outspokenly blue, but a sort of dull hodden-gray, don't lay it all on your nerves or your long-suffering digestive outfit; look at your walls. Ten to one they have something to do with the case.

There are walls that depress you and give you a hopeless, closed-in feeling. And then again there are walls that scream at you and overcome you by their too-noisy cheerfulness. Just like some folks. You don't get in a word. The stream of verbosity with its dashing little ripples of cachinnation just flows on and on, over and about you, and you must simply resign yourself to it.

Cheerful? Yes. But even this take-you-by-storm sort of pleasantry grows monotonous in a little bit of a while. And so does this farce-comedy paper that you see on some walls. It is bright and smiling, but the smile soon degenerates into a grin. Then you don't like it.

A great many people, in their anxiety to find uncommon designs and colors, are led into choosing bizarre and tawdry things that have no artistic merit whatever.

Other people know in a vague sort of way what they want in color and style, and yet have not the trained eye that can of itself attain the correct combinations.

There are others who know what they want, who have refined and artistic conceptions of good effect and proper proportion, who, in a word, have good taste, but think that their wants cannot be met in Atlanta and that they must either send away for materials or import a decorator to carry out their ideas.

Now, to all these classes the C.-J.-DuB. Wall Paper Department will be a revelation, for its basic idea is artistic treatment. It is supervised and directed by competent talent. No botch work is tolerated. No inharmonious and ill-fitting combinations are allowed.

For Library, Hall, Dining Room, there is a marvelous collection of suitably handsome designs—metallic, burlaps, leather, armorial, in a range of rich color that affords great pleasure to the student of artistic effect. Roman gold, basket green, Pompeian red, old ivory, elephant's hide—are a few that permit the most agreeable variety of combinations. The Spanish and German Renaissance styles furnish the motif for many very effective patterns.

Then for bedrooms—such a world of fair and charming things—light, rose-sprinkled cretonnes, fresh simple chintzes, dainty Frenchy brocades after the Marie Antoinette style, pretty flower-strewn surfaces with the sweetest of color.

For the Nursery, "Story" paper, fairy tales, the cutest wee folks imaginable, all sorts of designs that are just right for the entourage of the youngsters.

COTTON CLOSED 20 LOWER Market Opened Firm and Up 11 to 12 Points.

Census Report Was Bullish, but There Was a Lack of Support From Bull Leaders—After Middle Session Market Became Weak.

New York, January 23.—An early advance on bullish census figures was followed by a very severe break in the cotton market today. The close was steady, but at a net loss of 11 to 20 points. Sales were estimated at 500,000 bales. The market opened firm at an advance of 11 to 12 points with March selling at 11.55 and May at 11.68, during the first few minutes, on covering and scattered buying, which was promoted by the census report, showing only 10,377,607 bales ginned to January 15, against 12,176,999 last year. But there was no sign of support from the bull leaders. On the contrary, these interests were believed to be selling, and the market soon eased, under more general realizing and local bear pressure, which was prompted by reports of southern markets and conflicting advices as to labor troubles in Louisiana. After a nervous and irregular middle session, the market became more nationally weak, with March selling off to 11.45 and May to 11.21, or 40 to 47 points under the high figures of the morning, 22 to 27 points below the closing prices of last night, and 58 to 60 points under the high level of last Monday. Selling was general on the decline, which caught large spot orders and was accompanied by rumors that the bull clique had not been liquidated long lines, but had assumed a bearish position on the market. The close was steady by covering, and last prices were a little up from the lowest. Local statisticians claimed that the census figures could not be used as a basis of cotton business, but that on a basis of spot estimates of over 11,750,000 bales. Receipts at the ports today were 50,059 bales, against 54,742 last week and 48,397 last year. For the week, 225,000 bales, against 253,322 last week and 299,135 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands 11.90; middling Gulf 12.15; sales, 1,200 bales. Futures opened firm and closed steady.

New Orleans, January 23.—Cotton spot steady. Low ordinary 8 1/2c, nominal; ordinary 9 1/2c, nominal; middling 11 1/2c; middling 12 1/2c; good middling 12 1/2c; middling fair 13 1/2c; fair 13 1/2c; nominal. Sales 2,250. Receipts 8,879. Stock 30,362. Futures opened steady, 8 to 12 points above the close yesterday. Except for a slight rise in the strength of the already widely expressed belief in a short cotton crop, the report of ginnings, issued today by the census bureau, caused the market to fluctuate. A short time after the opening there was only weak support, and the market eased off slightly. The situation was somewhat better, but during the late session considerable selling was done, and brought about a marked recession in values. At the close, which was steady, the market was 11 to 15 points below the close yesterday.

Dry Goods.

New York, January 23.—An auction sale of silk piece goods today was successful. The prices ranged from 15 to 20 per cent below the last, and the speaking, but the strong feature of the sale was the large number of buyers present and the activity of the bidding. Cotton goods in general were easier, but in the late afternoon there was a fear that lower priced cotton would affect the situation. Jobbers are doing a little more trading, while the market is filled with buyers, all trading in limited quantity.

The sales of the day were 6,000 bales, of which 500 were for export and included 5,000 American. Receipts 41,000 bales, including 40,300 American. Futures opened and closed steady.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, January 23.—It is the belief of the local trade that the large long interest here for Liverpool account during the morning, and fearing that it indicated the trouble between the masters and operators in Manchester would not be quickly settled, sold out the major part of their holdings. This selling, in turn, brought about a sharp decline, and during the afternoon, the government's report of 10,377,607 bales ginned is a low statement of the amount ginned to date and indicates a yield well below 12,000,000. We should gain from now on as much as last season (including linters) the yield should be quite 200,000 bales below the government estimate of the crop. We will gain considerably from this time to reach their estimate.

In the haste to take profits, all factors are discouraged, but the northern spinners are now in the market for cotton, hoping to buy on basis of today's decline. The falling for Liverpool was an arbitrage transaction for American account.

SIX ARRESTED CHARGED

Sensation Was Caused Yesterday at Girard, Ala.—Law and Order League Behind Move.

Columbus, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)
A profound sensation was caused in Girard, Ala., today when Sheriff Daniel of Russell county, appeared on the scene armed with eleven warrants and during the day arrested six persons charged with selling whisky in that city without license. The men arrested, all of whom gave bond, are Norman H.
Harris, G. T. Hunt, W. J. Newman, and
A. H. Cogbill, former saloon keepers, and Roland Cooper and Charles Nix, negroes. Several warrants have not yet been served.

The Law and Order League employed a detective, who claims to have worked up the cases. The cases will be tried before Judge Benton, at Seale, Ala., Monday. The warrants were served on by C. T. Gifford, as president of the Law and Order League.

THE CLAIRVOYANT GOT $45

But the Farmer Has Not Yet Found
the Buried Gold.

Columbus, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)
J. M. Slaughter, a Russell county farmer, is mourning the loss of $45.

Mr. Slaughter's barn burned and he went to the clairvoyant at Columbus to find out who fired it. The professor told him that he would give him the information in ten days and added intentionally that he had found out that there was gold buried on his farm and that he would help Mr. Slaughter locate it. Mr. Slaughter paid him $45, his fee, and went away. When he returned at the appointed time the clairvoyant had

ARE EXAMINING ROAD BEDS.

Three Men Supposed to Be Inspectors Are at Montezuma.

Montezuma, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—For the past two days three strangers have been giving very close attention to certain railroad properties and tristles in and near Montez-uma and it is believed they are railroad walkers or inspectors, employed by the railroad commission.

They have been closely inspecting the tristles in this vicinity and they spent today under the tristles of the Central and Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic that cross Beaver creek within the city limits. These inspectors have also been studying the condition of the Central road between this city and Flint river.

COOPER MET USUAL SUCCESS IN PITTSBURG

Received Thanks From Hundreds While in the Smoky City.

The following article, taken from The Pittsburgh Press, describes the results of L. T. Cooper's visit to that city, and the effect of his new preparation, as told by people who had become convinced of the soundness of Cooper's theories with regard to the human stomach.

Cooper believes that the human stomach in civilized races has become greatly weakened. He claims that most ill health of the present generation is due to this fact. The article is as follows:

"L. T. Cooper is meeting with the same astonishing success in Pittsburgh as in other cities. For the past few days many thousands of Pittsburgh people have called at his headquarters to talk with him.

"Cooper's prophecy, made upon his arrival to the effect that before he left Pittsburgh thousands would realize that his theory is correct and would come and thank him for what his medicine had done, is rapidly being borne out.

"On Monday an astonishing number of people called to express their gratitude to Mr. Cooper, judging from what some of these people had to say to a Press reporter, when interviewed, Cooper's claim that the human stomach is degenerate is distinctly verified.

"One of the most unusual statements was made by Mr. C. W. Woods, of 103 South Highland street. He said: 'For four years my wife was in very poor health. She was weak and thin, with a hectic flush and cough. Physicians said she had consumption, and I was inclined to believe them. It certainly looked as though her days were numbered, and there appeared to be very little ground for hope.

"Shortly after Mr. Cooper came to Pittsburg I began to hear of wonderful results that had been obtained by persons who had tried his medicine, so I got some for my wife. She had taken it only two days when she was relieved of a tapeworm 42 feet long. She began to improve immediately—has gained seven pounds since she began taking the medicine. She feels splendid and looks very much better. If any one doubts this statement I would be pleased to have them call at my house and verify it.'

"The Cooper remedies are becoming justly famous. We sell them, college in the south which is constructed with as many means of egress looking to the safety of the pupils as Wesleyan College.

BLAKE TO COACH MERCER'S TEAM

He Made a Fine Record With the Gordon Institute.

Macon, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)— Mercer University has secured the services of Frank Blake as a coach in football for the next season. Blake made a fine record with the Gordon Institute during the season when he worked there, and this time the indications are that he will take hold of the team higher up with a determination to put ginger and life into the contest that are being booked. Blake is held in high esteem throughout the college football field in Georgia.

Professor E. T. Holmes, in charge of athletics at Mercer, and the manager and captain of the team will be working with Blake at the earliest opportunity in the interest of a fine football season. He will come to Mercer early in September and make arrangements for the beginning of practice. In the meantime he will be getting fingers on material that will be afforded in the student body.

LAP IS GAINED

Bardgett and Mitten Lead in Kansas City
Race.

Kansas City, January 23.—A break was made in the relative standing of the leading teams in the six-day bicycle race in Convention Hall today when Bardgett and Mitten gained a lap.
Bardgett started a terrific sprint, and after securing a lead of half a lap was relieved by Mitten, who, being fresh, in a great burst of speed, secured the coveted lap. Fogler and Moran then set a dizzy pace for two miles in an effort to regain the loss, but Mitten hung on and was himself relieved by Bardgett, who time to foil the efforts of the other sprinters.

At the end of the thirty-second hour,
the standing was as follows:
Bardgett-Mitten, 658
Root-Fogler, Lawson-Moran, Hopper, Holbrook and Wiley-Sherwood tied, with 658 miles, 1 lap; and Monroe-Morgan, 653 miles, 8 laps.

final score being:

Gottch Throws Baines.

Springfield, Mass., January 23.—The superior strength of heavy-weight champion Frank Gottch brought him victory tonight in his handicap wrestling match with middleweight champion

Barnes three times in an hour and accomplished his task after some clever work.

The time of the falls in order was 15:30, 10:30 and 10:30.

"Ben-Hur."

Klaw & Erlanger's superb presentation of "Ben-Hur" is still drawing immense audiences to the Grand and as the week progresses one marvels where all this great crowd of theatergoers is coming from, but a close analysis of the merits of "Ben-Hur" solves the problem. For from every village and town within a radius of 100 miles in delegations are coming to Atlanta this week to see General Lew Wallace's famous story in stage form.

Religious dramas may come, be heard and enjoyed, but they one and all impress as the veriest weaklings when this master work is brought forward. It is a stirring story, suggesting the very spirit of the Holy Land during the days of Christ and filled with that which will make one think—a story that brings home the heart-rendering pathos of the life and death of the Nazarene.

"Little Johnny Jones."
George M. Cohan's popular musical success, "Little Johnny Jones," is announced for the opening attraction next week at the Grand, appearing there for two nights and a matinee.
Atlanta theatergoers are exceedingly partial to any attraction with the Cohan trademark, and the mere fact that this production is under the personal management of Joseph M. Gaiter and that he promises one of the best companies that has ever appeared in the popular musical hit, gives every reason to anticipate a clever, up-to-date and sparkling performance of this jolly musical comedy.

"Caught in the Rain."

Interest is most pronounced in the forthcoming engagement of William Collier at the Grand on Wednesday and Thursday next in his notable success, "Caught in the Rain," considered the funniest farce comedy in the repertoire of the great actor and Grand Stewart.

At the Orpheum.

Tonight is amateur night at the Orpheum.
Those who have visited the Orpheum on a Friday night since the establishment of this night as one on which the promising amateurs are given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability and prowess, realize just how great a fund of fun and real enjoyment is in store for them.

Manager Kahn announces that he has a splendid amateur bill arranged, although the book will probably get a chance to take a little exercise and cause a little fun.
The regular bill at the Orpheum this week is one of unusual excellence and is drawing
